Lisa detailed the Hunter Street, homeless health centre. This is part of the Area partnership and has run there for 18 years. Lisa detailed the service and the prospects of the service. Pre pandemic the hunter street service was regarded to quite unorganised and acted as a drop in clinic. It serviced circa 60 members a day. Due to the pandemic the service changed over nights. Engagement with service users would become quite lose due to restrictions. The default for hunter street was that if you were homeless you had to go to hunter street for treatment. It was noted that there are no rough sleepers in Glasgow and at any time this number goes no higher than 5. All rough sleepers are able to be accommodated. Lisa noted that after the pandemic they took their service on the road and engaged with the community face to face, this reduced drug deaths over the last few years. The multiple teams have been combined to create the complex needs team and the service is city wide. You no longer need to be homeless to access the service now so the service has changed to capture anyone with complex needs. Hunter street is an interim service and after 6-12 months then the patients go back to the local. Hunter street has a referrals form that can be used to refer people, anyone can refer people to the service.
